Help Us Locate Children of Farmworkers

Background: Amerigroup* encourages and requests your support to help identify your patient who may be a child of a farmworker. We offer special Medicaid services for children of farm workers from birth through 20 years of age.

✦ What this means to you: Tell your patients about these services during an office visit. Be sure to share this information with your staff.

Who is a farm worker?

A farm worker is a person who works on farms, in fields or as a food processor or packer, or with dairy products, poultry or livestock during certain times of the year. He or she moves to different places to follow seasonal work with crops or farm animals.

If you do identify a child of a farm worker, let us know so we can document the information.

What if I need assistance?
