

HEDIS telehealth eligible measures coding bulletin

The NCQA specifies three modalities for delivery of telemedicine service. The first is synchronous telehealth, for example real-time, two-way audio-visual communications via a technology platform such as Webex or Zoom. The second is telephonic visits, meaning the exchange of communication via a live telephone call. Finally, there is asynchronous telehealth, which means two-way communication that is not real-time, for example secure messaging or email. Synchronous telehealth visits, telephone visits, and asynchronous telehealth are considered separate modalities for HEDIS® reporting.

The following is a list of HEDIS measures that are eligible for provider gap closure through telehealth services:
