

A message from Washington Health Care Authority

DBHR continues to review how we use our limited resources to meet the peer workforce demands in the behavioral health system. Since the COVID 19 pandemic we have begun looking with an even more critical eye on how we can maintain and improve these essential services. Our goal is to improve training and testing, and reevaluate how we provide CPC continuing education.

DBHR is committed to making sure that CPC continuing education needs are met. We are surveying CPC employers to understand the current wants and needs. We will use the information gained from the survey to help inform our process for future decisions.

Your voice is valued and needed. Please take a few minutes to answer our survey.
